

Carbon Tax Corruption Scandal: Part 1 – Series introduction by The Galileo Movement

(Care-Core-Cure)

My name is Malcolm Roberts, Project Leader of The Galileo Movement, a non-profit group formed to axe the tax, the carbon dioxide tax.

You know, people are wonderful. Yes we do make mistakes but contrary to what the Greens often say, humans are not inherently evil. You should not be punished, micro-managed, regulated or controlled. In global warming, the core issue is: they're trying to steal your money, steal your freedom.

I'll show you how.

In this video series we focus on three four-letter words starting with 'C': care, core, cure. Addressing issues successfully starts with care, then understanding the core science, so our cure is effective.

The government has done the opposite. It started with the cure: a tax on carbon dioxide. Then fabricated the core: climate alarm. Then told us that humans need to be forced to care.

As a result, when it comes to global warming what I've seen is that many people are not informed of the real situation. They express diverse feelings of confusion, fear, guilt, frustration, resentment, anger, apathy, doubt.

People say they need and are looking for the truth, understanding, reassurance, security, confidence, hope ... clarity.

In this video series I'll address these needs of people across Australia.

The Galileo movement is a small and growing group that is funded by donations from individuals from all walks of life.

After I've spoken at a rally it's really moving when pensioners press fifteen dollars into my hand. Their sacrifice is obvious. Their concern about this beautiful country and our future is touching.

My position is voluntary. My educational qualifications are similar to those of the Chairman of the United Nations Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, the UN IPCC. Its reports are the basis of the government's climate policies.

Like Greg Combet, Labor's federal Minister for Climate Change, I have a mining engineering degree with honours. Greg should know from university courses on atmospheric gases and geology that carbon dioxide cannot do what he claims.

After working for three years as a coalface miner underground I gained statutory qualifications and took responsibility for hundreds of people's lives based on my knowledge of atmospheric gases, including carbon dioxide, CO₂. I now work in all industry sectors.

Yet when I first heard that thousands of scientists and leading politicians backed the claims of warming I doubted myself. How could I be right?

My gut and my heart drove questions. Meeting real scientists at the First International Conference on Climate Change in New York in 2008 stunned me. Many of the world's most eminent climate scientists, including IPCC Lead Authors exposed the UN's misrepresentation of climate science.

For my kids' future, I continued investigating. My wife and I sold some of our planned retirement assets to keep food on the table.

I discovered that prominent academics spreading unfounded climate fear are funded mostly by government. Unlike them, my declaration of personal interests has been available since publishing my first document in 2009 on my web site, conscious.com.au and through The Galileo Movement's web site, galileomovement.com.au.

The Galileo Movement was co-founded by a retired award-winning engineer specialising in providing clean air and by a scientist who worked in the environment and health. It has one purpose: to Axe the Tax. Get rid of the carbon dioxide tax forever by going above and beyond politics and exposing the bastardisation of science. Deception paid for and spread by government.

Lets get started on the three C's: care, core and cure.

Science and history show human survival and success are due to care. It's in our genes.

Think about it, do you not care about the environment? Do you not care about humanity? Of course you care. We all care. Care is inherent: for our self, family, friends, humanity, fellow creatures, our beautiful planet.

Now, pollution hurts our health. It hurts productivity: it's wasteful, commercially stupid. By damaging Nature pollution hurts us spiritually.

Yet pollution and global warming are two completely separate topics.

Because humans care, London's air is now far cleaner than at any time since the 1300's. Even 160 years ago thousands of Londoners died annually from chronic lung disease due to air pollution. Despite adding millions of people, millions of cars and massive industry, London's air is now far cleaner than at any time in the last 600 years. Because humans care.

Lomborg, B, 2005, The Skeptical Environmentalist: Measuring the Real State of the World, Cambridge University Press

Our care, in the form of cleaner cars, cleaner power generation, greater efficiency is enabled by real environmental science. Real science is continuing to make the Earth cleaner and our lives better.

Care though, can be derailed by ignorance of facts. In the 1970's, at the height of DDT's remarkable success eradicating malaria, DDT was banned by the United Nations Environmental Program, U.N.E.P.. Do you know that the ban was politically motivated and completely contradicted the science? In 2006, the UN's own World Health Organisation condemned the ban and resumed use of DDT. In DDT's absence, over 30 million people died agonising deaths from malaria, including up to 20 million Africans, mostly in poverty. DDT would have prevented their deaths.

This organisation has demonstrated a deep lack of morality yet it forms the basis of the government's policy on climate.

In the next video we'll talk about the UN's deliberate manipulation and subversion of science that is the basis of the government's policy on climate.
